

Lori Mitchell Gay

Whitney Houston

Lori Mitchell-Gay is a mega-talented performer and entertainer, to say the least. She has graced stages all over the US and the world. Her humble beginnings began in the church choir in her hometown of Philadelphia. She attended The High School for the Creative and Performing Arts where she majored in theater and dance. Lori received a scholarship to attend Emerson College in Boston, then later transferred to Temple University where she majored in broadcast journalism. Her professional career began with several top-forty bands including one that performed for the USO, overseas. Her exposure and experience helped her to perfect and polish her style and stage presence, and she has applied it to appearances on television and radio. Lori has lent her talent to many musical and theatrical productions such as, Nights On Broadway II and III, The Wiz, Purlie, Godspell and Working, just to name a few. Her voice can be heard with recording artist such as Janice McClain, Billy Fellows, Rudy Gay and Rob Weird. Lori says she does her best work “on stage” “when you bring a smile or a tear, if that’s what you’re going for, to the faces of your audience, it’s an amazing gift and an incredible feeling”.
